MESSAGE FROM THE DIRECTOR

It gives us profound pride and immense satisfaction to present the 25th Annual Report of Social Revival Groups of Urban, Rural, and Tribal (SROUT) for the year 2024–25. Completing twenty-five years is not just a milestone—it is a celebration of resilience, collective effort, and an unwavering commitment to social transformation.

What began as a modest initiative in a single district of Chhattisgarh has grown into a dynamic organization working across several districts, touching thousands of lives through our community-centric interventions. Our journey from a grassroots movement to a trusted development partner has been shaped by perseverance, inclusiveness, and a passion for meaningful change.

Over the years, our collaborations with esteemed national and international institutions have broadened our perspective, strengthened our capabilities, and inspired us to adopt innovative approaches. These partnerships continue to enrich our mission and enable us to serve communities with greater impact and efficiency.

Learning and adaptation have always been central to SROUT's philosophy. As we step into our 25th year, we reaffirm our commitment to continuous growth—deepening our understanding, enhancing our programs, and contributing to the sustainable development of society.

I extend my sincere gratitude to all our partner organizations, supporters, and well-wishers. Your trust, cooperation, and encouragement have been the driving force behind our achievements and the progress we continue to make.

Agriculture is a primary income source for approximately 80% of Chhattisgarh's inhabitants. The majority of these farmers rely on rainfall and traditional methods to cultivate their produce. As a result, agricultural communities are highly vulnerable to unpredictable weather patterns, such as flooding and drought. The Watershed Development Program is designed to improve soil quality and water conservation through earthen structures that slow down the movement of rainwater through an area as well as water storage strategies that provide irrigation sources for dry months. Though facilitated by SROUT staff and funded by NABARD, this is a village-led program, with community members making decisions and providing labour to implement water management strategies.
